Clinical Research Center Fees

Beginning July 1, 2013, the USFPG began charging the OCR for the space in the Clinical Research Center (CRC) which space until then the USFPG was able to offer free of charge. OCR is not able to offset the rent allocation against the industry-sponsored trials managed by OCR, so it must recoup its costs to operate the CRC from the PIs who are using this shared resource. PIs using the CRC will be charged according to one of the following methods, depending on whether the PI is a routine or occasional user of the CRC:

1. Flat Monthly Fee: For PIs who routinely conduct their clinical research study visits in the CRC, a flat monthly fee will be assessed per PI. The monthly fee will permit unlimited access to the CRC but does not entitle the PI to priority use of the CRC or guarantee that an exam room will always be available. Scheduling of exam rooms will continue to be on a first-come first-served basis. Study patient visits will be scheduled in EPIC including both the exam room/infusion cubicle and the research study team as resources. The flat monthly fee includes use of the facilities, management, equipment and maintenance, and limited shared basic clinic supplies. The amount of the monthly fee will be reviewed quarterly and adjusted as needed based on the number of PIs who qualify to participate in the monthly fee arrangement as determined by OCR. The greater the number of PIs participating, the less the monthly fee will be per PI. The goal is to ensure that the OCR is covering its costs to operate the clinic, without collecting more than is needed to do so.
2. Session Fee: For PIs who do not qualify to participate in the monthly fee arrangement due to the PI's limited use of the CRC, a session fee will be assessed per use/procedure conducted in the CRC (e.g., an IV infusion of study drug administered in the CRC by OCR staff). For non-federally funded trials, OCR will seek reimbursement from sponsors by attempting to build the session fees into the budget, although sponsors may or may not agree to this arrangement. Session fees will be applied at a flat rate to each scheduled study visit, regardless of the duration of the visit and regardless of whether reimbursement from sponsor is available. PIs who pay the monthly fee will never be charged a session fee.

Method	Fee*
Session Fee	$15 per session
Flat Monthly Fee	Averaged $627.07 per month FY17

*Overhead of 9% applied to all fees

Each PI, or their designee, will identify the FAST account number from which the OCR will withdraw the applicable CRC fee.
